Governor Roberts.

Ovation Great.

At this point the meeting was adjourned to Market hall to accommodate the big crowd, When Governor Roberts ascended the rostrum at Market hall he received an ovation that was even more prolonged and lusty than that which had greeted his initial remarks at the Board of Commerce, "This magnificent demonstration of your loyalty and fealty to your flag touches me and fills my hearts with pride to see representatives of East Tennessee taking such deep, vital, and personal interest in the one problem that now presents itself for solution," he continued.

Mayor Neal and Commissioner C. G.

personal interest in the one problem that now presents itself for solution," he continued.

Mayor Neal and Commissioner C. G. Wayland at this moment entered the hall and advanced down the north alse to the rostrum: As soon as the audience saw them, there was loud and prolonged applause, which intensified as the men approached. As they ascended the platform, every man and woman in the audience was on his or her feet, crying out, clapping hands, and waving hats and handkerchiefs.

"This is another demonstration as to your position on one of the questions that also vitally concerns us." said the governor in resuming his address. The question to which Governor Roberts referred was that of a petition fo the recall of Mayor. E. W. Neal which is being circulated as the result of the mayor's stand on law and order. "Governor Roberts then told of the formation of the Law and Order league at Nashville, saying that its purpose was to bring about a definite organization that the forces of lawlessness were organized and banded together. with the intent of undermining and overturning the institutions of the nation. The committee of fifteen men will have charge of the program of organization throughout the state.

"When the committee asked me to come to Knoxville to address a gathering of representatives of this law and order league from over East Tennessee I sagin stated that I was ready to go to any place at any time where I felt that I could be of service to the people.

"The time has come for action."

felt that I could be of service to the people.

Time for Action.

"The time has come for action and not argument. He that is not for me is against me. He that is not for the flag of his country is against his flag. There is no middle ground in this issue. The time now is when every citizen should make up his mind to choose once for all either the red flag that has has destroyed institutions that have protected the test of time heretofore, or the Sars and Stripes that have protected the institutions of our nation."

The audience rose as one, and after a moment of tense stience, in which he read the approbation of the citizenship of Tennessee for the manly attitude of the governor of the state, wild applause and cheering ensued.

"In August 1914, the world war begun," resumed Governor Roberts, "Germany, hard, deflant, autocratic, had raised the malled fist of despotism and defled free men everywhere. The challenge was picked un by every free government in the world. It was impossible for a great government to avoid being drawn into the conflict, It was a batfle between autocracy and free government and as the citizenship of the freest and best government in the world we had a part. My firm belief is that in a struggle in which liberty and justice, civilization and even religion hung in the balance it

Law and Order.

Governor Roberts then told of the first meeting of the Law and Order league which was held in Nashville about a week ago, saying that men who were there had loved their state, loved their cities, and their communities and believe that their institutions were imperiled and that it was time that brave menstepped to the fore and took definite action in every city, hamlet, and civil district in Tennessee.

"So a committee of fifteen men was selected, of whom your distinguished fellow citizen is a member. He has written a new chapter in the glorious history of our state, and has led his men on to victory."

Here loud cheers of applause for Col. Spence reached throughout the room.

"We are here today in response to the request of this committee," committee said that it was the duty of its members to sound the slarm so that citizenship might be angused and its partriotism rekindled so that they may take new hope and courage to do their duty in a trying situation. I said I was ready and willing to meet with the people at any time and place, to counsel with them in regard to the real danger that is about us at this time."

More applause followed this expression of the democratic gentiments of Governor Roberts.

WOMEN CANDIDATES IN LONDON TOTAL 220

London.—Two hundred and twenty women thus far have declared themselves as municipal candidates in the November elections throughout twenty-nine London boroughs.

The majority of these cuttheir eye teeth of authority and executive direction at war work, which indicates that once the average woman leaves her home and fireside to flutter in the limelight of what used to be man's work, seldom does she return to the realm of the knitting needle and household duties. One demobilized officer said:

eration of women to restore the domestic tranquility of prewar days. What Great Britain needs more than better housing, is home-staying women."

made up of unassimilated foreigners. But there are men who have lately come to this country to teach our men to follow the red fing of bolshevism instead of the stars and stripes and who have wanted to undo what we and our forefathers have wrought.

'This I. W. W. ism, socialism, and bolshevism is not native to this country. It finds its origin in despotic governments and has been transplanted here where it has no business whatever. This country is big enough and strong enough and hospitable enough for all who want to come, but not for enemies who will sow the seeds of bolshevism.

"The time has come when we must deport enemy allens. Those who cannot be deported must be dealt with severely. This is no time to temporize with traitors to the flag. Let the men stand on one side or the other. It is one of the purposes of the league to enforce law and order to allow men to say which side they stand on."

Gov. Roberts at this point told of the 300 young men who had been in Nashville last Friday, with the American Legion, saying that he had never seen more whole hearted support. of any principle than that given by these men to the proposition of the law and order league.

"On the ruins of the government of patriotic we will pass them on in all their purity.

Diffling With Tide.

"We seem to have been drifting with the tide. We have drifted too far from our ancient moorings and if we continue to drift and will allow the enemies of our government and those men who oppose the Holy Writ to dictate we are going to drift over the cataract into the maelstrom. It is high time for the citizens of Tennessee to take steps and ask what is the end and meaning of all this? Who are the men who are responsible? Why are they teaching heresies to the younger men of the state? Then we shall resolve that before God we will do our duty as Tennesseans and Americans. It seems to me that we have forgotten some of the principles that underlie our institutions. The men who built the government guaranteed to all citizens all rights, their liberty and the enjoyment of their happiness. God gave us the laws that are being challenged in Europe and some parts of America when He gave Moses the Ten Commandments," he stated.

Here Gov. Roberts quoted the text of saveral of the commandments, giving their application to the laws of the present day. He then told of the framing of the Magna Charta which was signed by King John in 1215.

"We have a grave situation," he continued, "but it is not confined to Ten-

"Then the greed, avarice and selfishness of all classes asserted itself. We find it in its most extreme form in the profiteer. I want to say it as an indictment to them that this is the greatest enemy to social institutions in the world. He saw the world was prostrated and that mankind had been engaged in work of destruction and that the world needed food and clothes and shelter. Instead of trying to remedy the situation, he has been taking advantage of it to fill his own coffers at the expense of human kind. It is the duty of the government to go after these men, one and all. Everyone who sought to take the life blood of the world when it was prostrated stands convicted at the bar of public opinion and should stand convicted at the bar of every court in the United States."

WAIT

for the Revolutionary Six

ONCE again we council you to wait. .

Price, Performance, Economies and Fine Appearance will well justify a little more patience.

At the offices of the Corporation, a great flood of inquiries comes in on the tide of every mail. At the great Elizabeth, N. J. plant, every nerve is being strained to hasten the Day of Big Production -400 to 500 Sixes, day after day.

By this time, all America is realizing that the Six is not merely the most remarkable car of the year, but one of the few Epoch-Making Cars of Automobile History.

Automobile men on all sides are complimenting us for our American spirit in overcoming the many obstacles, which, for years, had made the coming of such a car impossible.

Today the Six is fully developed. Each of the revolutionary forward steps has justified itself during two years of testing, over asphalt and mud, levels and hills, smooth roads and ruts -200,000 miles of it.

Each of the new principles has won the approval of prominent members of the Society of Automotive Engineers. One of them, the new three point Cantilever Spring Suspension, accomplishes a remarkable result-in effect adding a good 30 inches to the 112 inch wheel-base and giving this light economic car (approximately 2,100 pounds) all the road luxury of those ponderous extravagant palaces of 142 inch base. The chassis also is radically simple-eliminating costly material and greatly expediting quantity production.

A car of handsome appearance, that gets you about as only a Six canaveraging 17 to 20 miles per gallon of gasoline throughout the tests

The People's Six-Economic to Buy-Economic to Keep.

Shortly, from Elizabeth, the base of production, great train loads of Sixes will be shipping to the four points of the compass.

And at the other extensive plants of the Willys Corporation-at Toledo, O., Syracuse and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., production of the Auto-Lite, New Process Gears and Willys Light will go on in the never-yetachieved effort to keep pace with increasing demand. To date over a million and a half Auto-Lite sets have been produced and marketed-New Process Gears are being produced for over 2,000 automotive vehicles per day-the Willys Light is just coming into production, and, in one single month, has booked orders for 20,000 sets.

Each of these industries is a source of supply for the new Six-in fact, practically every item of the new car, from raw material to finished product, is produced by the Willys Corporation, or by controlled and closely allied industries.
